

OBJECTIVES AND GENERAL INFORMATION

The Abe Bailey Trust and Travel Bursary were established in terms of the Will of Sir Abe Bailey who died in 1940. The Trustees of the Abe Bailey Trust make funds available for travel bursaries known as the Abe Bailey Bursaries. These Bursaries give selected university students and university staff of junior lecturer status an opportunity to visit the United Kingdom, participating in educational tours according to an approved programme. A copy of last years programme is attached.

The objective of the Travel Bursary is to broaden the views of young South Africans

- ◆ to effect greater understanding and co-operation among those with various language and cultural backgrounds
- ◆ to enable outstanding South African students who show exceptional leadership qualities and a strong service ethic
- ◆ to foster enterprise, commitment and effective participation in a common future
- ◆ to promote South African unity

THE BURSARY

The Bursaries are awarded each year and cover the cost of an all expenses paid 3 week educational tour of England and Scotland and a stop - over in Addis Ababa to visit the African Union. Included in the cost are tourist class return air fares between Cape Town, Addis Ababa and London as well as travel between inland university centres and Cape Town. It covers the cost of carrying out the Tour and all excursions according to the approved programme. In addition, funds will be made available, at the discretion of the Trustees, to cover out of pocket expenses in the United Kingdom.

The host in the United Kingdom is the Goodenough College in London. The selected Bursars will be expected to remain in the company of the other Bursars, to participate in all organised activities and to carry out the whole of the approved programme. There will be limited short periods during the programme when Bursars will be free to arrange their own activities.

The selected Bursars from various South African universities will gather in Cape Town on 22 November 2016, spend two days together for orientation and depart for Addis Ababa by air on 24 November and then on to London. The tour will officially end in London on 17 December 2016.

ABE BAILEY FELLOWSHIP

All Bursars become a member of the Abe Bailey Fellowship comprising past Bursars since the Tour's inception in 1951. Past Bursars are kept in touch by way of the Fellowship Newsletter and an annual updated address list.
