

Harnessing the potential of AI and ChatGPT in Higher Education

17 March
2023

09h00- 11h00

The School of Life Sciences cordially invites you to a dialogue on practical applications of Artificial Intelligence generally, and ChatGPT specifically, in teaching and learning and research in STEM disciplines.

KEY POINTS:

- Introduction to ChatGPT and its impact on Higher Education
- Benefits and best practices for integrating ChatGPT within a higher education Teaching and Learning framework
- Benefits and best practices for integrating ChatGPT within a Research and Higher Degrees framework
- Potential challenges and ethical considerations

SPEAKERS:

- Prof Ademola Olaniran
Dean and Head of School: Life Sciences
- Prof Hafizah Chenia
School of Life Sciences
- Prof Grace Leung
Vice Dean: Teaching and Learning, University of Johannesburg
- Prof Gueguim Kana
Academic Leader: Research and Higher Degrees, School of Life Sciences
- Prof Andre Vosloo
Academic Leader: Teaching and Learning, School of Life Sciences

Click here  to REGISTER

ENQUIRIES: Mrs Devashnee Chinniah (chinniahd@ukzn.ac.za)